Colorado's 2008 Statewide Comprehensive Outdoor Recreation Plan (SCORP) is the product of a collaborative effort administered by Colorado State Parks between July 2008 and July 2009. This plan was developed with the assistance and support of a diverse array of outdoor recreation stakeholders representing local, state, and federal agencies; non-profit groups; outdoor industry groups; and other organizations directly linked to outdoor recreation. A Land and Water Conservation Fund (LWCF) grant awarded to the State of Colorado from the National Park Service made this plan possible.
